The YMCA is committed to protecting personal information by following responsible information handling practices in keeping with privacy laws. The YMCA uses modern information and communication technologies to support our YMCA activities. Our Privacy Statement covers the YMCA and our website. You can access our website home page and browse our website without disclosing your personal data. We collect information about you only if you volunteer to provide it. We collect personal data you volunteer online in order to better meet your program, service and information needs. We also use and disclose data, which does not identify individuals, for statistical purposes to develop and enhance YMCA programs and services. We may also collect personal information in order to satisfy legal, government, and regulatory obligations. Because the YMCA wants your website experience to be informational and resourceful, our website also provides links to third-party sites.

The YMCA assumes no responsibility for the information practices of sites you are able to access through our website. We encourage visitors to review each website's privacy policy before disclosing any personally identifiable information. We do not sell personal information we collect. We will not disclose your personal information to anyone else without your prior knowledge or consent, except when required by a government body or agency, or as permitted by law. The YMCA maintains physical, electronic and administrative safeguards that are appropriate to the type of personal information we obtain from you. YMCA staff and volunteers having access to personal data are required to respect the confidentiality of personal information and handle it responsibly. E-mails sent from the YMCA may contain confidential information and are intended only for the individual(s) named. If you receive an e-mail from the YMCA and are not the addressee, you should not disseminate, distribute, or copy the e-mail. Please notify the sender immediately by e-mail if you have received an e-mail by mistake and delete the email from your system. E-mail transmission cannot be guaranteed to be secure or error-free as information could be intercepted, corrupted, lost, destroyed, arrive late or incomplete, or contain viruses. The sender therefore does not accept liability for any errors or omissions in the contents which arise as a result of e-mail transmission. Faxes sent from the YMCA are confidential and are only intended for the named recipients. If you have received a fax in error, and are not the named recipient, please immediately notify the sender by phone and destroy the fax and any attachments immediately.

If you have an inquiry, complaint or concern about the YMCA's information handling practices, or if you are aware of any inaccuracy or changes in the personal information which we hold about you, please contact us. The YMCA regularly reviews its policies and procedures to ensure we remain current with changing laws and evolving public expectations.
